

INTEREST IN CONTEST IS AT FEVER HEAT

The Girls Are Working Hard and Much Interest Has Been Shown in the Past Week
---It is Not too Late for Some of the Girls Who Have Not Shown Any Interest to Get Busy and Win One of These Delightful Trips.

During the past week there has been more interest shown in our big Atlantic City contest than any previous week. A number of the girls have been working hard and have secured a large number of new subscribers, while others have done practically nothing, but are well up in the race owing to the unsolicited help of their friends. The contest is the talk of the town, the people are interested and all you have to do to secure votes is to see the old subscribers and most of them will pay what they owe and several years in advance. Most any person that is not a subscriber will gladly subscribe and pay you several years in advance, all you have to do is to SEE THE PEOPLE and the victory is yours.

All contestants that have not received as many as 7,500 votes by our next issue will be dropped from the list.

NOTICE

On account of the serious illness of his wife, Mr. Chas. A. Kirk, Contest Manager of the Advocate's Atlantic City Contest, has been forced to resign his position and return to his home in Ashland. We were at a loss just what to do at first, but following our policy of always giving our patrons a "fair deal," although it may be at a loss to us, we have determined to continue the contest on the following conditions:

District No. 1

Instead of dividing the City of Mt. Sterling into 2 districts, the whole of the city will comprise district No. 1.

District No. 2

District No. 3 and 4 has been combined and Montgomery County outside of the City limits shall be known as district No. 2.

District No. 3

The district known as No. 5 shall be known as district No. 3, composed of the counties of Bath and Rowan counties.

A Correction.

On page two in the notice of the death of Matt S. Kelly, we made a mistake in giving the names of his brothers and sisters. The article should have read this way: He is survived by four sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Pat Shannon, of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Kate Hanna, of Lexington; Mrs. Newt. Armstrong, of Lexington; Mrs. John Walsh, of this city; Mike Kelly, of Meridian, Miss.; and John A. Kelly, of Ashland.

Quite a Compliment.

Miss Marguerite Evans, the talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Evans, of this city, has been elected assistant principal of the new graded school to be opened at Little Rock, Bourbon county, this fall. This is quite a compliment to Miss Evans, as the position was unsolicited and came as quite a surprise to her. The school board is to be congratulated on securing the services of so competent a young teacher.

NEGRO STABBED TO DEATH

Riley Cooper has Trouble With Willis Holley and is Stabbed to Death.

In a difficulty on East Main street about 12 o'clock Saturday night, Riley Cooper was stabbed through the heart with a knife by Willis Holley. Cooper was hurried to the office of Drs. McKenna, where he died on the operating table. The cause of the trouble is unknown, but it is said both of the negroes were drinking. Holley was located at Cliff Prewitt's farm at Thompson Station and arrested at an early hour Sunday morning by policemen Tipton and Turner.

How About This for a Good Dog Story?

One day last week Dock Hicks, a well known man of Menifee county, was in Mt. Sterling and was driving a spirited horse, which became frightened at the large steam roller, being used on the streets preparatory to brick-paving them, and ran away down Locust street. In its flight it ran into the wagon of the Mt. Sterling Laundry Co., turning it over and nearly wrecking the buggy, but somehow managed to break away and ran on down Locust street, and was passing the livery stable of A. B. Setters, when Buster, the small bull dog owned by Mr. Setters, rushed out and grabbed a line dragging the ground and attempted to stop the horse. The animal was going so fast, however, that he dragged the dog for nearly a block and when the pursuing men finally did catch him, they found him running around in a circle with the line in Buster's mouth. Now we did not see this, but we got this story from reputable men.

JAMES B. McCREARY

ONLY ABOUT 40 PER CENT OF VOTES POLLED.

An extremely light vote was polled throughout Kentucky Saturday in the Democratic State Primary. Possibly, barring counties where local races were being decided, there was not over 40 per cent of the vote cast.

Hon. James B. McCreary received the nomination for Governor over Hon. Wm. Addams by a majority of something like 30,000. James Garnett was nominated for Attorney General by a majority larger than that of McCreary. Barksdale Hamlett, for Superintendent of Public Instruction, J. W. Newman, for Commissioner of Agriculture, and Robt. L. Greene, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, were all elected by safe majorities, while the race for Lieutenant-Governor and State Auditor was close, but the final returns indicate that McDermitt and Bosworth were the winners.

Louisville gave Addams a majority over McCreary of 8,769. Edwards, Bosworth, Garnett, Hamlett, Newman and Greene, also received good majorities in Louisville.

Montgomery's vote was as follows: Governor: McCreary 626; Addams 74. Lieutenant-Governor: McDermott 485; Edwards 77; Stuart 103. Auditor: Laffoon 137; Bosworth 500. Superintendent of Public Instruction: Hamlett 452; Littrell 58; Eubanks 110. Commissioner of Agriculture: Newman 465; Wyatt 91; Hill 75. Clerk of Court of Appeals: Greene 436; Chinn 239; Pollard 182; Garnett 455.

There was little interest shown in this county and only a light vote polled.

MATT S. KELLY

Engineer on the C. & O., and one of Mt. Sterling's Most Prominent Citizens. Killed in a Wreck Last Week.

OTHERS INJURED.

Matt S. Kelly, of this city, was killed in a railroad accident at Ashland, last Wednesday. The wreck was caused by the spreading of rails. The engine and baggage coach both overturned and Mr. Kelly was killed instantly. His engine, death, resulting almost instantly.

Mr. Kelly had long been an engineer on the C. & O. and was considered one of the most careful men in his service. For a number of years he was in charge of the engine on the Richmond Division.

He was one of this city's most prominent men, being a member of the city council and had often acted as mayor. He was a member of the Roman Catholic church, and was always true to his beliefs. He was a member of the local order of Elks, who attended his funeral in a body.

Mr. Kelly was born in 1863, and during his stay on this earth had made friends by the thousands.

In the loss of Mr. Kelly we have indeed lost a good man, one that was well known and loved by all our inhabitants. He is survived by his wife and several children, who have the deepest sympathy of this entire community in the untimely death of a kind and loving husband, a true and devoted father. Besides his wife and children he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Pat Shannon, formerly of this city, but now of Seattle, Wash. Mrs. James Taubee, of Lexington, and John Kelly, of Catlettsburg.

The funeral services were held at the Catholic church Friday morning, services conducted by Father Edward B. Romer, burial in St. Thomas cemetery. All the business houses in Mt. Sterling were closed during the burial out of respect for one who had so faithfully served his city.

The others who were injured in the wreck were Rud. Foreman of Englewood, E. A. T. Watkins, who suffered a broken leg and Fireman Clayton Stump, who was only slightly injured.

DR. WM. VANANTWERP

Prominent Citizen and War Veteran. Succumbs After Short Illness to Bright's Disease.

Last Wednesday morning the Death Angel claimed the soul of Dr. Wm. VanAntwerp, one of Mt. Sterling's oldest and most beloved citizens.

"Old Doctor Van," as he was affectionately called by his friends, had practiced dentistry in this city for many years and was one of the best practitioners and mechanics in the State. He was a graduate Miami Medical College and Ohio Dental College and had held the office as president of the Mississippi Valley Dental Association and many other dental organizations.

Dr. VanAntwerp was a native of New York state and was 70 years of age. During the civil war he served the Union army with distinction as engineer.

He is survived by his wife, who before marriage was Miss Margaret Grenay, of Canada, and two sons, Howard, of this city, and William, of St. Louis, Mo.

Indeed, an excellent gentleman has been called from our midst. He was a man that counted his friends by his acquaintances, and his splendid character was admired by all who knew him.

The funeral services were held Thursday, June 29, conducted by Rev. H. G. Moody and the remains were laid to rest in beautiful Maplelawn cemetery.

Montgomery Commandery Knights Templar, of which he was a prominent member, had charge of the burial services.

S. M. Apperson Dies in Arkansas.

News reached this city last week of the death of S. M. Apperson, which occurred in Little Rock, Ark. Mr. Apperson was a half brother of Judge Lewis Apperson and had many friends and relatives in this county who will regret to learn of his death. Mr. Apperson was born in this city December 9, 1854. His death was not unexpected as he had been in failing health for some time.

Former Montgomery County Woman Weds.

Mrs. G. W. H. Stanley, (nee Miss Nannie Anderson), of Macon, Ga., was recently united in marriage to Mr. B. W. Stone, of Thomasville, Ga. After the ceremony the couple left for a trip to Eastern cities, after which they will make a visit to the bride's mother, Mrs. S. W. Anderson, and her sisters, Mrs. Ernest Gillaspie and Mrs. W. T. Tyler, all of this county. Mrs. Stone is well remembered here at her old home, where she has a host of friends who wish her much happiness. Mr. Stone is said to be a most excellent man.

Time and Season. How for everything there is a time and a season and then how does the glory of a thing pass from it, even like the flower of the grass. This is a truism, but it is one of those which are continually forcing themselves upon the mind.—Borrow.

STRAIN TOO GREAT.

Hundreds of Mt. Sterling Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men, the hard work and stooping of workmen, the woman's household cares, are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

R. M. Freeland, 169 W. High street, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says:

"Driving affected my kidneys and the jarring of the wagon caused severe pains through my loins. I finally procured Doan's Kidney Pills at E. C. Duerson's drug store and they gave me prompt and positive relief. When I have felt any need of a kidney remedy since then, I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have never failed me. Any person suffering from backache or any other symptom of kidney trouble will make no mistake in giving this preparation a trial."

John C. King of this County Weds Carlisle Girl.

Last Wednesday morning at Carlisle, Mr. John C. King, of county, and Miss Mary Kathryn Mathias, of Nicholas county, were united in marriage. Mr. King is a son of Mrs. Maggie King, and is a popular and industrious young gentleman. His bride is said to be a popular and attractive young lady.

Discrimination Disliked. Women frequenters of the British museum refuse to make use of desks which are marked "For ladies only."

A Welcome Change

Smoke curling up from the farmhouse chimney as the men are coming in from the fields, gives a pretty suggestion of a good supper and a comfortable home. But it also means a hot, tired woman, working hard over a blazing fire.

A New Perfection keeps a kitchen many degrees cooler than any other range, yet it does all a coal or wood range can do. It saves time, labor and fuel. No wood to cut; no coal to carry; no ashes; no soot. With the New Perfection oven it is the best cooking device you can find anywhere.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME
Oil Cook-stove

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners, with long, turquoise blue enameled chimneys. Hand-gently finished throughout. The 2- and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without a cabinet top, which is fitted with drop shelves, towel racks, etc.

Dealers everywhere; or write for descriptive circular to the nearest agency of the Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Glad to Be Himself.

Humperdinck does not take himself seriously at all; his humor is mainly leveled at himself. To the question, "Did you always wish to be a composer?" he retorted quickly: "Yes. At first I thought I should be a second Beethoven; presently I found that to be another Schubert would be good; later, I would have been content to be a Lortzing—then gradually satisfied with less and less I was resigned to be a Humperdinck.—Ainslee's Magazine.

Bad for the Boys.

During a spring thunderstorm in Orange county, N. Y., a flock of crows numbering 83 sought the same tree for shelter. It was struck by lightning and 79 of the birds killed. There are not more than a dozen crows left in the county, and what the boys are going to throw stones at this summer is a puzzle. They'll have to coax the crows in from some other county or give up the fun of pegging.

Monarch Never Writes Letters.

It is the accepted etiquette that the ruler of Great Britain never writes a letter. Those who need to correspond with his majesty who are aware of the right procedure usually write to the king's secretary or a member of the household, asking that the matter in question should be placed before the king, but petitions for the exercise of the prerogative in any form on matters of state are required to be submitted through the home office.

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If you saw a row of apples, everyone differing in size, ripeness and color, and all for sale at the same price, wouldn't you choose the best? Why not do the same thing when you buy fire insurance? The cost of insurance is substantially the same in all agencies, but what you get for your money varies as much as the apples in the row.

Choose then HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY. For Nearly Three Quarters of a Century it has paid every loss, big and little. Its reputation is unexcelled. It is the best fire insurance apple of them all, and its policies cost no more than those in agencies of inferior quality. Why not use the same judgment in buying insurance that you would in such a trivial matter as buying fruit at a fruit stand?

M. A. Tyler Marries an Accomplished Kansas Girl.

Mr. M. A. Tyler, of Cincinnati, was married Thursday, June 29, 1911, in McPherson, Kansas, to Miss Winifred Weller. The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, and was a very quiet affair. The happy couple arrived in Cincinnati Friday evening, where they will soon go to housekeeping in the beautiful bungalow the groom has just built and furnished in Hyde Park.

Mr. Tyler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Tyler, of this city, and is a young gentleman well known in this, his native city, where he has many friends who admire him for his splendid character and striking personality. His bride is said to be a highly accomplished young girl and one of the prettiest in the state.

Prayer of the Exile.

They are so homesick they pray like this: "If I should die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take back to Tennessee." — Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Worth the Price.

Celtic Stranger—"Tim Hennessy has just been arrested; what will ye charge to defend him?" Young Lawyer—"Ten dollars is my fee in police court cases." Celtic Stranger—"Well, here it is. I've had it in for Tim this long time, an' 'tis worth tin dollars to kit even wid him!"—Puck.

Rules and Exceptions.

"Any fool can find fault," James G. Cannon of New York cautions a group of ministers. In a notoriously fault finding world most of us will be inclined to lay the flattering unction to our souls that the maxim does not apply both ways, to affirm that anybody that finds fault is a fool.

Pleasure in Everything.

If we apply ourselves seriously to wisdom we shall never live without true pleasure, but learn to be pleased with everything. We shall be pleased with wealth as far as it enables us to benefit others; with poverty, in not having much to care for, and with obscurity, for being unenvied.

England's Cheese Production.

Owing to the growing demand in England for soft cheeses, a Yorkshire agricultural college has issued leaflets to encourage farmers to make cheeses of the types of Camembert, Brie, Pont l'Evêque and Gervais, as made in France.

HE WANTED IT REALISTIC

Tolstoi Knew How a Man Ought to Act After Being Kicked Downstairs.

Some old anecdotes are told of Count Tolstoi. Once, when one of his plays was being rehearsed at a theater, he was invited to be present. His religion did not prevent him from accepting the invitation, but he went to the theater as he went to his work—dressed as a peasant. It was a small company of the very select, and the doorkeeper was careful to admit only the proper persons. When, therefore, a shabby-looking peasant appeared in the entrance hall he ordered the man in peremptory tones to get as far away as he could in as little time as possible. As the peasant showed no immediate signs of obeying, the doorkeeper seized him and threw him down the steps.

"My name's Tolstoi," the peasant said when he had picked himself up again.

The doorkeeper, when he could find words to express his amazement, was profound in his apologies. There happened to be in the play an incident of a similar kind, and at the close of the performance, in a little speech he was called upon to make, the count complained that the actor did not make the most of this incident.

"I know exactly what I am talking about," he said, "for I've just been thrown downstairs myself."

From the Storehouse of the Eyes. Eyes are bold as lions, roving, running, leaping here and there, far and near. They speak all languages; they wait for no introduction; they are no Englishmen; ask no leave of age or rank; they respect neither poverty nor riches, neither learning nor power, nor virtue, nor sex, nor intrude and come again, and go through and through you in a moment of time. What inundation of life and thought is discharged from one soul into another through them!—Emerson: "Conduet of Life."

Care of the Attic.

Few attics are celled, but if they are not light the walls and the beams should be treated to a coat of white paint or whitewash. Once a month the floor should be swept. The windows should be washed three or four times a year. Twice a year there should be a campaign: waged against moth, roaches and possible bedbugs as well as against larger vermin. Keep a rattrap and a mousetrap in commission.—Woman's Home Companion.

Business Methods in Charity.

Charitable associations in Frankfurt, Germany, operate lodging houses, restaurants, eating rooms, can teers for the benefit of the poor, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. They are conducted on strictly business methods. Dinner—soup, meat, vegetables—is provided for a fraction more than eight cents. Until the recent increase in prices for foodstuffs the meal was given for less than eight cents. Lodging is provided at from thirty-eight to sixty cents a week.

GEORGIA MARBLE

Since the very earliest ages of history, marble everywhere has been recognized as preeminent in the construction of the world's greatest monuments and buildings, and Georgia Marble contains those durable qualities for which the stone from the ancient quarries was so justly famous. In beauty Georgia Marble stands without an equal. It matches up perfectly, and when lettered shows a striking contrast that renders the inscription readable from a distance. The crystalline formation is so closely interlocked as to prevent the slightest degree of absorption or decomposition, rendering it proof against climatic conditions, and it remains beautiful and unbroken always.

A PROGRESSIVE STEP.

We desire to call to the attention of our readers the announcement of the Exchange Bank of this city of the opening of a savings department. From the published statement, this bank, which is one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the community, is in a prosperous condition. For nearly half a century it has justly enjoyed the confidence of the public and we heartily endorse the plan of affording to the people an opportunity to place their money in a savings bank where interest will be paid upon it. The officials of the Exchange Bank feel the people should share in the bank's success with the stockholders. Economy is a virtue that should be encouraged and a savings account will grow remarkably fast, even from a modest beginning. We believe this department will meet with general favor and we congratulate the directors of this excellent bank for supplying this long felt want.

We tip our hat to the Democracy of Kentucky upon the ticket selected Saturday. From top to bottom it could not have been improved upon and the next step is for every Democrat in the State to put his shoulder to the wheel and by a united effort carry our flag to victory in November by an old-time majority.

We want to call the attention of our readers to the three bank statements appearing in this issue. They are exceptionally good ones and our community should be proud of the splendid showing made by these excellent institutions.

Best Farm in the South

A RARE OPPORTUNITY

No other investment equal to it at this time. 1300 acres—750 acres in cultivation. Balance in good merchantable timber.

On these lands are 7 houses and barns and two Steamboat landings. They are 2½ miles from railroad station. Land all level, rich, river bottom. Fine cane brake. This plantation made 300 bales of cotton and 10,000 bushels of corn in one year and can do it again. Figure the year out, put 300 bales of cotton at $80 each $24,000 00
Cotton seed $10 from each bale 3,000 00
10,000 bushels corn, 60c bu. 6,000 00

Making a total in one year of $33,000 00
To this add second crops and enough could be made in one year to pay for the entire farm, and with the entire farm in cultivation it would realize far more. Price, $30 per acre.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Believing that the people of this section should have the opportunity of receiving interest in a Savings Bank, we desire to announce that we have opened a Savings Department to be run in connection with our regular banking business. We pay 3 per cent. annual interest on all deposits placed in the Savings Department for six months or longer.

The officers and employees of the bank will take pleasure in explaining to any one that may desire information regarding the Savings Department.

We desire to take this opportunity to thank our patrons and the people of this community for their past support. Our institution has been running for almost one-half of a century, and never in its history has it been more prosperous than it is today. We believe the people are entitled to have a bank in their community that will help them to save their earnings, at the same time divide with them part of its prosperity.

The secret of success is saving money, so have your children start a bank account. One dollar is all that is required to make the first deposit.

Remember that the foundation of every fortune is made in small savings.

The following were among the local number who participated in the clay pigeon shoot at Lexington Tuesday afternoon for the championship of the Blue Grass: S. S. Pinney, John William, W. Q. Stephens, W. P. Oldham, A. A. Hazellrigg, Warren Stoner, Roy Scott, Miller Hoffman, Wm. Carrington, Clark Kemper and Harry Lockridge.

Mrs. Mott Ayres and little daughter, Virginia, arrived Monday night for a visit to Mrs. Ayres' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Coleman.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Mrs. L. L. Bidgeforth entertained last Tuesday, June 27, with a beautiful reception at her home on Holt avenue. The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and flowers.

Conatone's Italian Orchestra, consisting of harp and violin, of Lexington, played all during the evening. About one hundred and seventy-five guests called during the hours, all of whom reported a most beautiful and enjoyable affair. The colors were green and white and they were carried out in all the decorations and in the ices, cakes and mints.

Those in the receiving line with the popular hostess were Mrs. G. F. Doyle, Mrs. R. I. Cord, Mrs. G. C. Anderson and Mrs. F. C. Duerson.

Punch was served on the veranda by Misses Mary Smith and Alma Nesbitt.

Those entertaining on the veranda were Mrs. Percy D. Bryan, Mrs. Stockwell Samuels and Mrs. John Barnes.

Those in the hall were Mrs. C. C. Chenault and Mrs. John W. White.

In the library Mrs. W. P. Oldham and Mrs. B. F. Thomson looked after guests, and in the rear hall Mrs. John T. Gay, of Versailles, and Mrs. Robert Howell.

The ladies assisting in the dining room were Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Mrs. Fred Bassett.

Misses Stella and Garnett Robinson presided at the favor table, the favors being sweet peas tied with pink ribbon.

The dining room was decorated with potted plants, La France roses, ferns and palms; the parlor in which the receiving line stood, was banked with potted palms and ferns at the mantle. The halls and library were extensively decorated with potted plants and cut flowers, while veranda was decorated in a similar manner and brilliantly lighted with electricity.

THE SICK.

Mrs. Elizabeth Thompson, who has been confined to her bed for several weeks, shows slight improvement.

Virginia Yates, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Berry, is slightly improved, although her condition remains very serious.

R. B. Crooks, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is somewhat improved. Mrs. Crooks, who has also been quite ill, remains about the same.

John C. Wood, former postmaster, editor of the Gazette and one of the most prominent men in Mt. Sterling, is lying at death's door at his home on Holt avenue and is not expected to survive the day. Mr. Wood is one of the most popular men in Mt. Sterling and for a long time was one of the leaders in the Republican party in Kentucky and it is with genuine regret that his countless friends learn of his dangerous condition.

Borrowed Bridal Finery.

In Norway every parish house has a set of ornaments for the temporary use of the bride, including a showy coronal and girdle, so that the poorest women in the land appeared for one day in their life in a costume which they probably thought equal to that of a queen. The museum of national antiquities at Copenhagen contains a number of such sets of bridal decorations, which were at one time used in Denmark.

Too Joyous. A grocer in Charlotte, Mich., put a can of beans in his window and offered a pair of roller skates to the one who could guess the exact number. A lad named Willis Hines hit it exactly and got the skates, but he felt so elated over him good luck that he fell dead on his way home. The doctor said it was a case of being too joyous. If the boy had got a flicking instead of the skates he would have lived on.

MARRIAGE AND LONGEVITY

Wedded Man, as a Rule, Lives Longer Than Bachelor, Though the Reason Is Not Clear.

Longevity is not in itself a thing greatly to be desired unless strength is retained and mental alertness. It is not a good thing to live for 100 years if the last 30 of them are spent in weakness, with no activity marking them. Yet men who have been married have lived to a ripe old age, their minds still active and capable. John Bigelow today gets much more enjoyment out of life than many who blessed with less than 30 years. Bachelors have been known to reach the age of discretion, which we are told is the seventieth year, but with them old age has been a crabbed thing. It is the married man who really lives the longest of his race.

We do not know just why this is. There have been old tobacco users and old men who have never used tobacco; old whisky drinkers and old men who have never drank at all. It is only when marriage is made the test that old age is explained. It may be that the bliss of marriage in the early years prepares men for all vicissitudes, and it may be that the loving care of a woman is responsible for the whole thing. We do not know. We only wish to emphasize the point that when it comes to old age the bachelors are strongly wanting. It takes a married man to live a long time.—Charleston News and Courier.

NEW DISCOVERIES IN CRETE

Fine Wall Paintings and Other Objects Revealed by Recent Excavations of Palace at Knossos.

The excavations which have recently taken place in Crete under the superintendence of Dr. A. J. Evans and Dr. Duncan Mackenzie, have resulted in the discovery of some important archeological points in connection with the palace at Knossos. Some wall paintings of very fine workmanship were brought to light, showing that the whole place had been richly decorated with scenes of a mythological character. During the progress of the excavations the explorers came upon a large vault situated under the southern gateway. At first it was thought that this might have been a burying place, but Dr. Evans is of opinion that it was a reservoir for supplying the palace with water, not the one under examination, however, but a palace of a much earlier date, which is known to have existed on this site. A number of small objects were also discovered, among them the most interesting being a marble votive altar of very fine workmanship, and also some interesting fragments of pottery of the early Mycenaean period.—London Globe.

PUSH MAN TRAIN.

One of the quaintest sights in Japan is the "push man train," a little railway which runs for 19 miles along the seacoast between Atami and Odawara, taking four hours to complete the journey.

Each car is hauled and pushed up hill by coolies and then allowed to run down the next incline by its own momentum, the coolies jumping on behind. When striking precipices and rounding sharp curves this becomes somewhat exciting, the sensation is rather like being in a runaway switchback car.

WORKS WITHOUT MONEY.

It is expected that the National Red Cross society will swing into line with the Carnegie Peace Fund commission and lend its best efforts to further the great undertaking. Miss Mabel Boardman, who works at her desk in the war department for the Red Cross like any employee of the government, does not get any salary for her work. She is a wealthy woman in her own right and a great friend of the Taft family.

GOOD PLAN OF CHARITY.

Mrs. Elizabeth W. Garrett, who died recently, bequeathed a Delaware county farm of 200 acres to the poor. It is to be turned into a lodge with orchards and green fields, and poor children and single women are to find there a place of rest for a certain period each summer.

SHOULD HAVE ORDERED GUM

Judge Moore's Mucilage Story Illustrates the Differences Between English and American Terms.

Judge William H. Moore, at one of the horse show dinners in New York, compared the London and the American horse shows.

"Both are admirable," he said. "There are differences, of course. But those differences reflect neither on one show nor the other. They are necessary differences, like—"

Judge Moore smiled.

"I went into a stationer's shop in London one day and said to the shop assistant:

"Do you keep mucilage?"

"No, sir," the young man answered. "We try to take in all the papers, but there are so many new ones coming out. Still, I can order Mucilage for you, sir. Which number did you want?"

"I learned afterward that I should have asked for gum. They don't have the word 'mucilage' over there in England.

"But an Englishman traveling on one of our railways stopped a train boy and said:

"Have you got any gum?"

"No, I don't use it, boss," the boy replied in friendly fashion, "but I can let you have a chew off this here plug."

CONSERVATIVE

"Doctor, have you any idea how much it is going to cost me to have this operation performed?"

"A good deal will depend on whether we sew up any of our instruments inside of you or not, so I don't like to make an estimate."

PUNISH MARRIED LOAFERS

Chicago Judge Plans Law Change That Will Hit Those Who Won't Support Their Families.

The law dealing with wife desertion provides for the punishment of men "who abandon and fail to support their families." The "and" is ambiguous. It has been found impossible to punish men who "hang around" their families and live on the hard-earned dollars of their wives and children. Chief Justice Olson will endeavor to put an "or" in place of the "and" in the law. The change is necessary and just, for married loafers and shirkers who do not abandon their families are often worse than the deserters. But if the law is amended merely to provide for the imprisonment of such loafers the poor families will gain little or nothing. If the former could be compelled to work for the state and their earnings were paid to the wives a real reform would be achieved. Such proposals have been made at meetings of criminologists, but the difficulties in the way are enormous. Let us hope that the threat of imprisonment may prove sufficiently deterrent.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Can You Remember Fourteen? Goethe told Schiller that Gozzi, the Venetian, had said that only thirty-six dramatic situations are possible. Schiller declared that he could think of but fourteen, and those of us who are most conversant with dramatic literature will find on curious consideration that even fourteen are difficult to compass.—Ellen Duval in the Atlantic.

Death of Mrs. Fannie Lytle Occurs in California.

Without warning the Death Angel visited the home of Stewart Lytle at Los Angeles, Cal., June 26, and took from him his faithful helpmate and wife, Fannie Lytle. Mrs. Lytle had been in good health and the news of her death from heart disease was a shock to her many relatives and friends. Mrs. Lytle was born in this county, where she has many relatives, but had made the west her home for several years. Mr. C. B. Patterson, who had been visiting at Los Angeles, accompanied the body here.

She was twice married, her first husband being Jim Harve Jones, who died in Missouri several years ago. Of this union one son, Hollie Jones, of Platte City, Mo., survives. She is also survived by her husband, a number of nephews and nieces, many of whom reside in this county. Mrs. Lytle was a daughter of the late William Ragun. She was a sister of Mrs. D. J. Burchett, of this county, and Mrs. Lon Patterson, Mrs. Laura Park and Mrs. Mary Reid, of Los Angeles. She was a woman of lovely Christian character and will be sorely missed. Funeral services were held at the residence of H. B. Kinsolving, burial in Machpelah.

Slays Uncle.

During a quarrel in Menifee county, where considerable drinking was going on, Sam Profit, unmarried, aged nineteen, shot and instantly killed his uncle, Dave Profit, aged thirty. The shooting was with pistol, the bullet entering the brain and causing instant death.

The slayer claims self-defense, while the friends of the dead man say that the killing was without cause. The dead man leaves a wife and several children. His slayer was tried before County Judge Caudill at Frenchburg, and held to the Circuit Court in sum of $1,000. He was remanded to jail for failure to execute bond.

He was an excellent Christian gentleman and left many loving friends to mourn his death. His wife and four children, Mrs. J. E. Henry, of this county; Mrs. Rueben Brooks, of this city; Mrs. Mary Ingram, of Ashland, and Loring Nickell, of Morgan county, survive him.

ALWAYS IS OF GOOD REPORT

Story About Carnegie Illustrating the Statement That We Never Hear Anything but Good of Him.

"We never hear anything but good of Mr. Carnegie," he said. "The last thing we have heard—his gift of $10,000,000 for the promotion of peace—is the best yet. But everything we hear is good."

"A friend of mine has brought back from Dunfermline a story about Mr. Carnegie and an old woman."

"Mr. Carnegie, the laird of Skibo," was making some improvements in Dunfermline, and one day, at the noon hour, an old woman appeared on the scene with a sack. She hurriedly filled her sack with chips and bits of wood from the work, and then she turned to a handsome, genial, gray-bearded man and said:

"Hi, laddie, gie us a lift wi' this sack afore the laird comes."

"Thereupon the laird of Skibo promptly helped the woman to escape from himself."

MORE PIE, IF HE NEEDED IT

Grateful Man Is Offered the Remains of the One He Had Partaken of a Year Before.

"My friend," said a good-looking, well-dressed man when William Henry Younghusband went to the door, "I have called here today to offer you my thanks. A year ago I passed this way. Luck had been going against me. I was down and practically out. A dozen people had turned me from their doors. You heard my story, and instead of sending me a lecture gave me a piece of mince pie. By your kind act my confidence in humanity was renewed. I went on my way, vowing that I would yet succeed, and I have done so. I wish to offer the sincerest expression of my gratitude."

"I am mighty glad to see you again and to hear that you have made good. In case you happen to be in need of any more pie I think we still have the one from which the piece you got was cut. My wife, who loves me dearly, has never been willing to let me tackle it."

DAYS AND NIGHTS.

There's nothing finer than getting up early in the morning and feeling new all over.

The night should refresh one, make one fit for the day's duties and joys.

Instead of using the night for recuperation, however, too many of us seem to think the night was particularly created for pleasure, more or less legitimate.

The things we do in the daytime never bring us the regret, the disappointments, the morbidity, the sorrows and the extravagance that our night doings result in. The daylight doesn't bring the crow's-foot, the sunken eyes, the pallor of skin, the prematurely gray hair, that are the heritage of too much living in the glare of artificial lights.—Edna K. Woolley, in Toledo Blade.

PLUMBER.

Mulligan, the contractor, put up a church building. Dunn was building inspector then, and when he saw the church he said: "Pat, it isn't plumb."

That made Mr. Mulligan pretty mad. He climbed right up and began to take measurements. Having squinted down the plumb line in a dozen different places he was ready to report. There was a ring of triumph in his voice.

"Mr. Dunn," he said, "come and look at it y'rself. Plumb, eh? By th' piper that played before Moses, it's more than plumb!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A GERMAN TITLE.

In the matter of titles the Germans show more courage than we do. On a New Year's card which reached London recently the sender describes herself as Frau —, Raschenscherholschleiferdirektorswitwe. Would any English woman venture to describe herself as widow of the manager of the razor blade grinding works? When this was shown to a German friend he produced a card on which the sender was entitled Staatschuldentignunshureau sgeherwitwe, a description which she held to be her due as the widow of an official in the national debt office.—London Chronicle.

CIGARS WERE ON GARDNER

Cleveland Man, Examining Beautiful Diamond Necklace, Lost It In His Cup of Coffee.

As Harry Klein, George Gardner, Elias Nathan, Frank Miller and Jake Mintz were seated about a little table at luncheon time the other day—it was the day before Christmas—Mr. Nathan took from his pocket an exquisite diamond necklace and passed it around for inspection. While those about the table were praising the beautiful sparklers the necklace suddenly disappeared. Mr. Nathan's concern over the loss was not nearly as great as was that of Mr. Gardner, in whose hands the necklace was last seen.

"Well, it's gone; let it go," said Mr. Nathan. "There are more where this came from."

"And there is one where that has gone to," said Mr. Gardner. "Waiter, another cup, please."

When the cup was brought Mr. Gardner proceeded to pour off his coffee, and there, in the dregs at the bottom of the original cup, was the necklace.

"My fingers trembled so when I took the necklace in my hands," said Mr. Gardner, "that I let it fall and it disappeared in my cup of coffee. I had never seen anything so beautiful before. Waiter, one more! The cigars, please."

And the incident was closed.—Cleveland Leader.

TELLING TIME IN THE DARK

"The other night when I got snowed into a New Jersey farm house," said the man who goes hunting, "I shared my room with a man whom I thought at one time to be superhumanly gifted, but whom I found afterward was only an observing mortal with a good memory. While it was still pitch dark I wanted to find out what time it was. I was preparing to stumble downstairs in search of a light, but my roommate said he could save me the trouble. He took his watch from under his pillow and fiddled with a minute; then he said:

"It is just about three o'clock."

"I know he could neither see nor feel the hands, so I asked how he could tell."

"By counting the turns of the key it takes to wind the watch at this minute," he said. "I wound my watch at eleven o'clock. I always wind it at eleven. It takes just twelve complete turns of the key to wind it then. That makes approximately one turn for every two hours. Just now I turned the key twice, which shows that about four hours have elapsed since eleven o'clock."

PETREL AND ALBATROS.

The Stormy Petrel is so named, not because it braves the storm, but because, as soon as a storm threatens, it will often seek for refuge on a ship's rigging, and thus foretell the tempest. And if the albatros loves the stormy waves it is only because it frequently alights upon the water, where it often sleeps securely to the rocking of the billows.—Hatchet-Soupnet, in Strand.

NAMING NO NAMES.

She—I have an instinctive feeling that I can trust you. He (earnestly)—Ah, my darling, would that some others felt that way.

THE BETTER PART.

"Would you marry an aviator?" "Certainly. It is better to be married for only a little while than never to be married at all."

SAYINGS OF OTHER DAYS

We Often Follow Directions Notwithstanding We May Scoff at Results.

Everybody knows some old saying which few of us perhaps believe in our hearts. Yet, although we do not believe them, still we are interested in them, and as often as not follow the directions notwithstanding that we may scoff at the results. As for instance most people pick up a pin when they see it, but they do not cherish any hope of the action affecting their luck. When our ears burn we say some one is speaking of us; perchance we think we speak truly, probably we do not.

Here, however, are some other old-time sayings given for what they are worth. If you—

Drop a slice of bread or butter a hungry visitor will come.

Eat goose on Michaelmas day, you will have plenty of money throughout the coming year.

Pick an oak apple with a worm in it, you will be rich; with a fly in it, however, poverty must be yours.

Meet a man with a wooden leg, you may expect a surprise soon.

Break your apron string, your lover is thinking of you.

Break, says Woman's Life, your needle when sewing a garment, you will live to wear it out.

See a frog sitting on dry ground in the springtime, you will shed as many tears during the year as will make a pond large enough for it to swim in.

WONDER-FUL

The Good Young Man—Wonder if I dare?

The Good Young Woman—I wonder if he will?

WOMEN AS GARDENERS.

At a recent woman's congress, held in London, presided over by Lady Falmouth, it was pointed out that there are good openings in England for women gardeners. The college course is two years, and the girl must not be under twenty years of age. Where the old gardeners have been retired on pensions young women have taken their places. The kitchen and show gardens of these English places contain several acres of ground and it requires all the self-confidence the college course gives the girl to manage the under-gardeners and helpers.

A CUMULATIVE TEST.

As the thin man and the stout man were talking of diet and food in general, the thin man said, "You can get an excellent dinner at Clapham's, the restaurant near my office, for 25 cents. Ever try one of his dinners?"

"One of 'em—yes, I should say I had," said the stout man. "Why, I ate four of 'em one day last week!"

—Youth's Companion.

TOO MUCH FOR HIM.

"Can you spare me a moment of your time?" asked the man who began removing a prospectus from his inside pocket as he entered the office.

"Yes, sir," replied the gray-haired business man. "Have a chair and let me hear what your proposition is."

Then the caller fainted and it was necessary to remove him in an ambulance.

CORRESPONDENCE.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

Mr. Thomas Nickle has returned from Tennessee to spend the 4th at home.

Isaac Wilson, who has been in bad health for some time, has gone to spend a few weeks with his daughter, Mrs. N. P. Richardson, near Olympia Springs.

Crops are looking real well, although most of the corn was planted late on account of the dry weather in May and June. Half crop oats, meadow light, stock is doing well since the fine rains; about half crop of fruit.

R. T. Richardson has purchased from Ben Stafford 20 odd acres on Carmargo pike, near the famous springs and town lots, and will erect a nice residence on same and make this his future home.

C. M. Brown and F. D. Richardson have their bills out and have opened up a real estate office. They expect to locate some good citizens from Virginia and the Eastern part of Kentucky in Montgomery and adjoining counties in the near future.

The contract for the new hotel at East Carmargo has been let and work will commence in the near future. Let all parties, who bought lots, erect buildings on same and help build up our country. Jeffersonville is also on the move up. We have two good stores, two mills, three blacksmith shops, good churches and good schools.

IS TERROR OF THE HOSTESS

Unpunctual Guest Seldom Realizes How She Is Upsetting the Household.

The unpunctual guest is the terror of the hostess unless she has the means and inclination to cross the palm of each servant of the house with gold. In that case a degree of laziness will be tolerated which, if a member of the family were concerned, would be met with threats of departure. Not every procrastinating guest is rich, however, and when one of the impecunious or grudging ones arrives by a train later than the one upon which she was expected it is the signal for rebellion. From the moment she enters the door until her departure the mistress of the household is in a state of continual uneasiness lest the delinquent shall not be well served, or that a domestic crisis will be precipitated. Why cold breakfasts and rooms not "done up" promptly do not in time reveal to the procrastinators that they are upsetting a household and demoralizing the routine of each servant, is a question that has never been answered; but when a hint is thrown out to them as to the inconvenience caused the reply is very apt to be, "Oh! don't mind me! I can only have those last few forty winks; I never think if breakfast is cold or not," and the hostess can say no more. But her mental vow, when good-by is eventually said, is usually adhered to.

LOWERING THE DEATH RATE

Figures Show That Fight Against Tuberculosis Is Being Waged Successfully.

We have the assurance of Dr. Woods Hutchinson, writing in the World's Work, that the death rate from tuberculosis has declined 10 per cent. in the decade—which means a saving of 15,000 to 20,000 lives a year in the United States. The infant mortality rate is falling with equal rapidity, which means annually a saving of 20,000 babies from those Herods of the twentieth century—the little fevers of childhood, dirty milk and overcrowding. The death rate in all of our great cities is being steadily beaten down to a lower and lower level every year. The advance census reports show a lower national death rate than ever before by nearly 10 per cent.

The fight against tuberculosis is steadily becoming more and more a fight for better housing, more playgrounds, better food and more of it, shorter hours of work, decent and civilized shops, workrooms and factories, higher wages, better education in the laws of health. We have laid the bugbear of its transmission by meat and milk, and are concentrating our fire upon the place where the bacillus breeds—the infected house or tenement room. The place where we look for new cases of tuberculosis is in the same house with the old ones. We must break this link in the chain if ever we are to wipe out consumption. From 80 to 50 per cent. of the children in the tenements living in the same household with a case of tuberculosis are found to be already infected with the disease.

HAVE REASON TO BE PROUD

Achievements of the American People Afford View of Unbroken Line of Progress.

During the past 25 years 100,000 miles of railroads have been built, requiring an expenditure of not less than $200,000,000 for labor and material. We are both producers and consumers. While our population is only a little over five per cent. of the population of the world, we produce 20 per cent. of the wheat, 40 per cent. of the iron and steel, 55 per cent. of the copper, 70 per cent. of the cotton and 80 per cent. of the corn of the world. Furthermore, with inconceivable rapidity, machinery has taken the place of human toil, and incidentally millions of slaves have been set free. The same triumphant progress has invariably characterized every phase of human endeavor on the American continent. Civil and religious liberty is a natural condition as well as an attitude of mind. The story of agriculture, of manufacturing, of mining, of the arts and sciences, demonstrates the unbroken progress and uplift of the whole people. Finally, the health and well-being of the toiling masses have become, with constantly increasing earnestness of endeavor, the individual and collective purpose of the nation. And above all, the democratic idea, through good and evil report, has encouraged the personal work and character of the individual citizen. It has always believed that competition which encourages skill should remain paramount. It has always gloried in this personal competitive type as the ideal and preserver of democratic traditions.—James O. Fagan, in the Atlantic.

A DOLL OF ANCIENT EGYPT

Archaeologists Exploring Royal Tombs Make Interesting Discovery in Sarcophagus of Princess.

The delight which a little girl sometimes experiences in getting hold of a doll that belonged to her mother when she was a little girl—a quaint china-headed and china-haired little creature with low neck and short sleeves and very full ruffled skirt—is a "tame thing" when compared with the feelings that any tiny girl must experience over a doll now in the British museum. This doll is almost three thousand years old.

When some archaeologists were examining an ancient Egyptian royal tomb they came upon a sarcophagus containing the mummy of a little princess seven years old. She was dressed and interred in a manner befitting her rank and in her arms was found a little wooden doll.

The inscription gave the name, rank and age of the little girl and the date of her death, but it said nothing about the quaint wooden Egyptian doll. This, however, told its own story. It was so tightly clasped in the arms of the mummy that it was evident that the child had died with her beloved doll in her arms.

The simple pathos of this story has touched many hearts, after thousands of years. The doll occupies a place in a glass case in the British museum and there a great many children have gone to look at it.

HOW TO WIN IN POLITICS

Keep on Saying Something Until Everyone Gets to Believing It, Says Hedges.

"The way to win in politics," Job Hedges said once, "is to keep on saying something until everyone gets to believing it. It doesn't make much difference what that something is. My office boy went to Bridgeport once on one of the 50-cent boat excursions. He was late getting back to the boat, and by the time he reached it every chair on the desirable side of the deck was filled. He thought of a scheme.

"Have you seen the whale?" he asked those near him. "They've got a whale tied to the dock and he's thrashing around with his tail like anything."

"Those he spoke to paid no attention. So he went on, and told the story to others. By and by a few rose and went to see the whale. At last the fever seized everyone and they crowded to the other side of the boat to see the whale. My office boy was left alone on the deck. He selected the best chair and placed it in the most desirable position by the rail. The crowd didn't come back. He wriggled about uneasily and finally he jumped up and ran to the other side of the boat.

"By gosh," said he to himself. "I believe maybe there is a whale!" —New York correspondence of the Cincinnati Times-Star.

HOTEL KEEPER AND ROBBER.

A remarkable exhibition of presence of mind stands to the credit of James Dennis, an Australian hotel keeper, whose death was recently reported. One day he found himself behind his own counter looking down the muzzle of a revolver held by a villainous-looking fellow who was requesting him to put up his hands.

He raised them, but protested: "Surely it doesn't take two of you to bail me up." The robber, who had come alone, turned his head to see who the other man might be. In a flash Dennis's own revolver was out and the rascal's opportunity was gone.

UNTIED LACE COSTS A HAND.

An untied shoestring caused Thomas S. Abernathy, fifty-four years old, of 2127 Jefferson street to lose his left hand this morning. Abernathy was walking along the tracks in the St. Louis and San Francisco yards when he tripped on the shoestring. His left hand was thrown across a rail as a string of boxcars attached to a switch engine was passing. Abernathy was removed to the general hospital, where the injured hand was amputated.—Kansas City Star.
